

NIFTY VIEW

Erasing the previous session's gains, Nifty ended the session below its crucial 7,900 level with heavy selling in Metal, Auto, FMCG and Banking sector stocks. Sentiment on the street weakened after two Fed officials' indicated that the Federal Reserve will probably start raising interest rates around the middle of next year. Market sentiment further weighed down by the weakness in rupee, which fell in early trades on Friday due to fresh demand for the US currency from banks and importers. The weak start of the European markets too had added pressure on the local indices sentiment. However, rally in Infosys on the back of good second quarter earnings, avoided further dip in the index. Meanwhile, Some Investors remained on the sidelines and refrained from any buying activity ahead of IIP data for the month of August later in the day.

TREND: Trend is down and can turn up if close will above 7924.

On daily chart, yesterday nifty made bullish tasuki upside gap candle pattern which provide a useful indication of upcoming price movement. But at this level upside nifty might face resistance at level 7971 which is 20 IMA so sustain above this level then further upside movement can be seen for the level of 8060 while downside nifty has support of 7940-7860.

Daily RSI trading with less momentum indicates indecisive.

Nifty likely to open negative following on global cues.
